the motivational-affective component compels an individual in pain to act in a way that relieves the aversive stimulation

the rapidly increasing cost of prescription drugs is to encourage your doctor(s) to prescribe and pharmacist

the motivational-affective component compels an individual in pain to act in a way that relieves the aversive stimulation

the rapidly increasing cost of prescription drugs is to encourage your doctor(s) to prescribe and pharmacist